

President's Message

Hello BACCI members,

Welcome back for another year of creative endeavours and their promotion within the community.

Our February meeting was very well attended. A big thankyou goes to new member Lyn Cole who kindly offered to help out with secretarial work for the time being.

We raised quite a list of important issues which need to be dealt with this year, so we're hoping for good attendance at future meetings to help resolve these matters.

For the time being, if you have important items for the agenda, please email them to me by the 25th of each month.

Our Grace Cruice Exhibition in the gallery is now in place and looks wonderful with a great diversity of talents and skills being displayed. We're looking forward to the big opening tomorrow evening and we're also very excited to have the Ballina Sing Australia group coming along to sing for us. This exhibition will be officiated by Lee Mathers, the gallery curator and opened by David Wright our mayor.

I know it would have been better to write this report after our exhibition but I am fully committed the day after the exhibition and I'm hosting the club practise session on Saturday 20th.

Please come along to the next meeting on Monday March 7th with some good suggestions for resolving issues raised at the last meeting. I am also still keen to hear from members who have requests for, or who would like to offer specific workshops.

Until next time, Di Bell

Our next Monthly meeting will be held on

MONDAY March 7th – 5.30pm

At the Cherry Street Bowling Club.

All members and friends are welcome to come along.

Setting up for The Spring Exhibition Oct 2015

Exhibition Report and Lennox News

Well it has been a very busy month for your roving reporter. I have just finished an exhibition with Melissa Wright at the Lone Goat gallery in Byron Bay and it was very successful. We sold 19 pieces of art and believe it or not - 155 Art cards in two weeks. Thank you to all the members who showed their support.

Finally took down the BACCI exhibition at Club Lennox, and I'd like to thank the Club for their support, they have been fabulous to local artists. Three members sold work, Edna Moss, Fiona Reddoch and Rena Hurley.

Club Lennox continues to help us as we are now showing Di Bell's fabulous art and she has already sold a painting. Congratulations Di!

The first half of the year is starting out with a bang, as well as the BACCI exhibition, we have the Byron Classic coming up and the Ipswich art Awards. Entry forms for these are available on line.
